December 31, 2022

Dear General/ Colleague,

Greeting from the Pan Asia Pacific Regional Working Group,

As part of the Pan Asia-Pacific Regional Working Group's activities for international participants, the International Affairs of the AJA University of Military Medical Sciences has organized a conference on the International Conference of Military Medicine from January 24-25, 2023. The scientific program includes critical topics for military medical officers, nurses, and other health practitioners that will be presented via videoconference in Tehran over the course of two days.

The scientific program's main topics are as follows:

1. Role of Radiology in Covid -19 experiences in crisis.
2. Nursing and paraclinical crisis management.
3. Laboratory experiences in the crisis management.

Please send your information (the following items) to icmm.iran@ajaums.ac.ir to register and participate in the event.

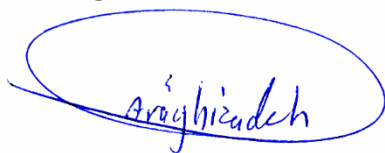

- Email
- First and last names
- Scientific qualification
- Military rank
- Country

As a result, if you wish to give a speech, please notify us via email at icmm.iran@ajaums.ac.ir at least one week prior to the event.
